FRESH SPORTING COMMENT

No Change in the Situation of the Senatorial Aggregation.

MANAGERIAL MISTAKES MADE

Already the Local Club Seems to Be Hopelessly in Last Place, with Little Chance of Getting Out-Too Much Available Talent Has Been a Stumbling Block.

Whether the Washington ball club will win many more games this season or not is somewhat of a vexed question with many of the local fans. One of the latter evidently does not take much stock in the future of the club, as he has wagered a goodly sum that the Senators will not win more than ten games during the balance of the season. Of course, the club will win many more than ten games, but the patrons of the sport have but little reason to be encouraged at the outlook. Manager Schmelz has already complained that through listening to the sugges-tions of others several of the players had been placed to the disadvantage of the team, and he purposed having his own way from this time on. Since then the manager has had occasion to switch the men around again, but without advantageous results.

Onite a deal of bad luck has aided in keeping the club down, and some of this is evident in the crippled condition of Joyce and Selbach, while the loss of McMahon's services has been most unfortunate. The latter is one of the best batters in the profession, and is of the best batters in the profession, and is besides a elever backstop and an equally good first baseman. Ill-health caused his return home, and he has been unable to participate in a championship game. The latest addition to the hospital list was Pitcher Stocksdaie, on whom the manager relied for valuable work. With these drawbneks Mr. Schmelz could not but be somewhat discouraged, but he apparently has not lost his grit and belief in the expectation that the club will come out all right in the long run. This may be the case, but it does not look that way.

It is very evident a mistake was made by the management in collecting a large and miscellaneous assortment of players before the opening of the season with the view of sifting and sorting out a winning team. In the light of results the scheme was a failure. Despite fair weather and the opportunity to get in much practice work the manager was confronted with a difficult task in making up the best team at his command. This has been proven by the continual changing since, and he is hardly nearer a solution of the vexed question now than at the offstart. There are always people to volunteer opin-fons as to the playing ability of respective men, and the manager has already confessed to being somewhat influenced by the judg-ment of others, although at variance with his

In consequence of all this many games have been lost which might have been won provided the available talent had been piaced to better advantage. It is unfortunate for the hungry baseball public that this city has not a club able to hold its own in the race for the pennant, and this year's outlook is worse than ever, as the club is almost a horaless than ever, as the club is almost a hopeless tailender so early in the game. There will doubtless be a game won now and then, but there does not seem to be the material in the club to give confidence to the public that the chances are even for winning a contest, and under such circumstances a victory will come more in the nature of a surprise than the ex-

Manager John Montgomery Ward is evidently 'twixt the devil and the deep sea, as the directorial influence has caused him to lay off Roger Connor and Mike Tiernan, two of the public favorites. The New York papers have as a rule taken up arms in defense of Roger and Mike, and John Montgomery hardly knows whether he is going to or com-ing home from school. The outcome of these dissensions will be the loss of many games which would be won provided the manager had things his own way without being dietated to. Some of the Gotham journals have a daily lecture for Ward, no matter which way

From Philadelphia come reports of very unbecoming conduct on the ball field by members of the champion Boston team. Tom Tucker, McCarthy, and Duffy are said to be the prime offenders, and the goodly baseball writers of the Brotherly City loudly complain writers of the Brotheriy City loudly complain that some severe punishment be meted out to the three mentioned. The Boston players are noted for their aggressiveness, and they are a hard lot to manage by an umpire with-out sand. Tim Hurst was the unfortunate to stack up against the Tucker, McCarthy, and Duffy contingent, and had his hands full. Captain Nash, of the champions, believes his men are receiving considerable unmerited en are receiving considerable unmerited eriticism, and claims umpires should be told when in error, so as not to repeat the offense.

Fred Hoey Defeated After a Stiff Contest At Pigeon Shooting.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., May 19 .- To-day the Hollywood pigeon grounds were opened and the feature of the day's sport was a match between George Work and Fred Hoey for the Riverton cup. The contest was under the following conditions: 100 birds each. Thirty yards rise and thirty yards boundary, for the cup and $500 a side. Bain fell during the morning and a dense Rain fell during the morning and a dense sea fog envolved the grounds all morning. It was anything but desirable wenther for pigeon shooting but there was a very good attendance of the lovers of the sport.

Work missed his seventeenth bird, and the score for the first quarier stood twenty-four killed by each man. The birds at first were not very lively, but in the second quarter they were very wide awake. The wind was blowing from the northwest directly across the trape and made the right quarters very difficult to hit. Both men were in excellent trim for shooting, but the spectators all agreed that Hoey was heavily handicapped by getting the swifter birds. However, he managed to kill twenty-three of his second twenty-five, while Work wound up the half century with a miss, making the fifth lost bird for him.

The fog lifted a little in the latter half of the shoot, and each man killed twenty-three the shoot, and each man killed twenty-three of the birds sprung in the third quarter. This left the Hollywood man two ahead, while Work only failed to "grass" three. This tied the score, as each man had killed ninety

Under the rules of the Riverton Gun Club Under the rules of the Riverton Gun Club it was necessary for the men to shoot off twenty-five birds each. Both men killed straight until the fourteenth round, when Work missed a hard driver and Heey followed with a similar miss. His nincteepth bird was and incomer, and he missed it also. This was an expensive miss for it lost him the match, as his adversary brought down all his birds, leaving the score for the shoot off, Work, 24. Hoey, 23.

Mr. Wilson, of Philadelphia, will shoot against Work next Saturday on the Hollywood grounds, and a good day's sport is assured.

Johns Hopkins Bent Lehigh. Baltimone, May 19.—The Johns Hopkins University La Crosse team defeated the team from Lehigh University in a closely contested. game on the Johns Hopkins campus at Clifton this afternoon. The score was 6 to 4. The best work for Lehigh was done by Ordway, Roderick, Polhemus, and Buel, and for Hopkins by the Camerons, Penniman, Dawson, and Mitchell. Two forty-five minute halves were played.

Arlington Race Track Leased. BALTIMORE, May 19.—Barney Demarest, a well-known local sportsman, has leased for five years the old Arlington race track (half mile), formerly operated by Lynn & Wall. He will open with a brief meeting November 1, and afterward go into the circuit with reg-ular Spring and Fall meetings, the same as Pimlico and Gentlemen's Driving Park,

A DAY OF ACTIVITY.

The Industrial Groups Suffered More Severely Than Any Other Stocks. NEW YORR, May 19.-An active business was done on the stock exchange during the two hours of trading to-day, but it was on the bear side of the market, and resulted in the establish-ment of a lower range of values in the great majority of the stocks dealt in, the industrial group being the heaviest sufferers. There was no indication at the opening of the market, but set in later. A pretty general advance was main the early dealings, which was, however, only actional, and which was not participated in by fractional, and which was not participated in by Sugar.

The market was then held well until 11.30 o'clock, just about the time the bank statement was issued, when a heavy seiling movement was organized which sent prices down rapidly, with the Industrials in the van. There was nothing in the figures of the statement to cause alarm, the changes being unimportant and the reserve being $7.000,000, against less than $2.000,000 ayear ago. The only unfavorable item was the small decrease in loans, which reflected the prevailing duliness of trade.

The prevailing condition of stagnation in commercial circles is perhaps the most serious obstacle in the path of the stock market, and the weekly trade journals take a particularly gloomy view of the outlook in to-day sissues. A good deal of long stock came out to-day and the shorts considerably increased their lines. In the late dealings some of the bears who have a constitutional objection to leaving their lines uncovered over Sunday came into the market, which imparted a tone of apparent firmness to the speculation at the close.

The decline on the day was heaviest in the Industrials, Sugar losing 3%; do preferred, 2%; United States Cordage, 2%; Lead preferred, 2% United States Cordage, 2%; Lead preferred, 2% National Cordage, 1%; Edison Electric, 2%, and the rest of the group 14:246, except General Electric and Lead, which are unchanged, and Cotton Oil and Consolidated Gas, which are ½ higher.

The only other shares which make a gain on the day are Atchison, 14s, and New York Central, 35 per cent.

The sugar market for the week has generally been a falling one and some heavy declines are recorded compared with the closing figures of Saturday last, the important ones being:

THE USUAL RESULT.

Senators Put Up a Good Game at Balti

BALTIMORE, May 19 .- The game here this afternoon was played despite a hard rain, which rendered the grounds somewhat soggy Washington put up the best game it has done in Baltimore this season, but, as usual, was easily defeated. Young Mercer was put in the points by Manager Schmelz, but the twirler failed to puzzle the Oriole batsmen, and h was hit hard and often. Bonner and Keeler excelling in this respect.

The Senators fielded in excellent manner The Senators fielded in excellent manner, an error by Hassamaer being the only misplay charged against them. Except in the ninth inning, Washington could not bunch hits on McMahon. In this inning a base on balls to Joyce, Hassamaer's fine single, Tebeau's out to Brodie, and Abbey's double scored two runs and brought them within hailing distance, but McGuire's easy fly to Jennings settled the game. Ward and Radford fleided their positions in great style, and several of the plays aroused applause. At the bat Ward and Hassamaer led for the visitors, the latter's good hitting being timely. The attendance was 2,300.

Claims That His Words Addressed to Archbishop Corrigan Were Misinterpreted. To a letter congratulating him upon his speech at the opening of the parochial school exhibit in New York city Congressman Cockran has sent the following answer:

Cockran has sent the following answer:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, U.S.,
WASHINGTON, D.C., May 19, 1884.
MY DEAR SIR: I received your letter, and I thank you for the expressions of approval which you have bestowed on my address at the parachial school exhibit in New York ciry. I think it proper to state, however, that while I cannot say the press report of my speech was verbally inaccurate, it was none the less entirely misleading. It is a case of misrepresentation by suppression.

leading. It is a case of inscept contained suppression.

The remarks which I addressed to Archbishop Corrigan, standing by themselves, might indicate that I had assumed to advise him as to the limits of his spiritual powers. Such a course on my part would have been presumptuous and indefensible. No better churchman than Archbishop Corrigan is to be found in the hierarchy, and no better patriot than M. A. Corrigan in the whole citizenship of the United States. It was because I felt certain of his cordial sympathy as a prelate and as a citizen that I addressed him directly when I declared that no Catholic could be faithful to the Church if he were disloyal to the republic.

be faithful to the Church if he were distoral to the republic.

My whole address was an attempt to prove that Catholicism was the parent of republicism, and that the Catholic Church could not, increfore, in the nature of things, be hostile to democrate institutions. I had stated that the triumph of Christianity necessarily meant the establishment of free institutions, because the universal domination of a church founded upon the belief that all men are equal in the sight of God inevitably led to the establishment of political institutions based on the principle that all men were equal before the law; and I contend that as the democratic idea of political equality was the necessary and inevitable fruit of the Christian doctrine of moral equality, democracy was but Christianity applied to civil government.

of the Christian doctrine of moral equality, democracy was but Christianity applied to civil government.

Having stated that every step in the history of the Church was a step toward republicanism, that during periods of intellectual darkness she had always held the light of liberty before the failtering footsteps of humanity; that in the face of privilege and absolution she had always insisted that the king was not better than the peasant at the judgment seat of God. I claimed that this constitutional government was the crowning fruit of the seed which she had scattered from her pulpius for 2,000 years, and I insisted that no hostility between Catholicism and republicanism was possible, unless the source was antagonistle to the stream or the mother himself to the archbishop and declared that, venerable, respected, and beloved as he was if he, from the pulpit or altar, could ever permit himself to utter one word hostile to republican institutions, his lips would become vehicles of heresy, and if he became false to the republic, he would be false to the Church which had touched his hands with holy oil for the protection and bleesing of her children.

The enterprising reporter who suppressed all the context and reported only the language addressed to the archbishop has, I fear, succeeded in conveying to some the impression that what was merely intended to illustrate an argument was the chief object of my speech.

No person in the hall misunderstood my meaning, and indeed no one applauded more vigorously the views I expressed than the patriotic American who is the spiritual chief of the New York architicese.

The statement that I used a warming in addressing the architishop is of such a ridiculous character that I would not stoop to characterize it. I would us soon think of defending myself from an inputation that I had been quitty of rudeness to the parent whose memory I cherished beyond all my earthly possessions.

A Woman Undergoes a Painful Operation to Improve Her Looks.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.] New York, May 19.—A young society woman from Philadelphia underwent a painful operation to-day at the hands of Dr. L. F. Pitkin, of West Forty-second street, to remedy a pair of ears which she thought were not shapely enough. In reality they were not at snapely chough. In reality they were not at all unusual, either in size or design, but the young woman thought they stood out too much from her head. She sat in the chair this afternoon, and, with the exception of a few spasmodic little screams, submitted to the painful operation without flinehing.

Dr. Pikkin made a long incision in the back part of each ear and cut out the V-shared.

part of each ear and cut out the V-shaped piece of membrane. Then he sewed up the wound and drew the ear back close to the head. When one ear had been fixed up the young woman looked into the mirror and young woman looked into the mirrer and seemed to think the improvement very slight, but the surgeon assured her that it was greatly improved, and when both had been treated she thought they looked much better. The doctor said he had treated another woman similarly the day before.

HOT SHOT FOR BOLAN.

Philadelphia Testimony to Show He Was

Not Anxious to Meet Campbell. Owing to conflicting reports regarding the disposition of Walter Campbell to meet Jack Bolan at the Columbia Athletic Club January 31, 1894, Mr. Bolan recently claiming he had been ready to meet Campbell, a letter of inquiry was sent J. Walter Schlichter, of Phila-delphia, as to the true inwardness of the case. A reply has been received by Mr. John Adams, of this city, in which Mr. Schlichter states most positively that Walter Campbell never refused to meet Bolan, but in point of fact the boot was on the other foot, as Bolan refused to sign articles presented and Johnny Corri-gan, of Philadelphia, was substituted. Afterward Bolan is reported to have made a bluff to fight Campbell for $1,600, but the latter had not the money, and did not believe either then, nor now, that Bolan ever had the money to substantiate his bluff. Campbell, according to Mr. Schlichter, is anxious to meet Bolan and never refused to do so. quiry was sent J. Walter Schlichter, of Phila-

Mr. John Adams has been after Bolan for some time in the interest of an unknown, but so far has not met with success. He is willing to meet Bolan, or representative, at any time agreeable to the latter, post a forfeit or entire stake, and arrange for a match. Mr. Adams says this is a chance for Bolan and will save him the trouble of expense and time to go elsewhere for a fight.

Rain Again Spoiled the Sport. Baltimone, May 19.—But two heats, the second of the 2:21 class trotting and the first of the 2:14 class pacing, were finished at the Gentlemen's Driving Park this afternoon, when a thunder storm again broke up the sport, occasioned a postponement of the un-finished events until Monday, and the rest of the programme to be declared off. James M. the programme to be declared off. James M. proved a brilliant winner of the second heat in the 2:21 trot, Puck, the favorite who won the first heat yesterday, being a good second.

The striking feature of the pacing heat, which was won by Brooks, was his time to the half, 1:0734. The track was only fair and attendance 1,200.

CLOSE FINISHES THE ORDER

Hudson and Carlton Stakes Were Decided at Gravesend Track.

DON ALONZO WAS DEPEATED

Ed Kearney Upset the Calculations of the Talent by Defeating Mr. Dwyer's Crack. Gotham and Hornpipe Were Winners of the Stake Features - The Results in Detail.

New York, May 19.—The Gravesend track to-day was sloppy, and when the racing be gan it was raining slightly, although it cleared off nicely soon after. In spite of the weather conditions at least 10,000 people were present, and they were well paid for their trouble, as the finishes were, as a rule close, sharp, and exciting. In three race the contest was in doubt until the last jump and heads apart was the order of the day. Two stakes were down to be run off, and the first was the Hudson, for two-year-olds and only three tried conclusions without the support crack in the mud. As soon as the flag fell for the start Gotham jumped into lead and from that on in gallop. Then came the Cariton for three-year-olds at a mile, and Hornpipe and Halton were about equal favorites. The latter was not in the race, however, from the start. After several trials the five contestants were sent away to a beautiful start, and turning into the backstretch Hornpipe assumed the lead. Dobbins held along in the third place until the colts came into the stretch, when he challenged Hornpipe, and a three furlong drive ensued. Neck and neck they rushed through the stretch, but Hornpipe came in a winner by a head. Dobbins was a little short, but when he next starts he will be ready to run for his life.

The fifth race was much the best of the day.
It was a handleap at a mile and a furiong, and Alax, with 114 pounds up, was a favorite. He flattered his backers by assuming the lead at once and atood there until the thee-quarter pole was reached, when he shot up like a knife. Then Pickpocket, who had been sulking, began to join the leaders, and into the stretch the order was Ramapo, Stowaway, Pickpocket. The last-named came fast in the last sixteenth and got the place fast in the last sixteenth and got the place from Stowaway by a nose, while Ramapo only won by a short half length.

Ed. Kearney surprised Mr. Dwyer by beating Don Alonzo in the first race, and the favorite, Hoey, got the second with ease. It cost Lakeland $1,300 to retain Hoey, for he was bid up to that amount. The favorites were nowhere in the sixth race, as outsiders ran one, two, three, and selling platers, as usual, wound up a good day's sport.
